Sigma Phi - MCHS Chapter
Nominated by Molly's House

The young men and women of the Martin County High School chapter of Sigma Phi are, without a doubt, some of the most cheerful, reliable and personable volunteers that we have ever had at Molly's House. Members of Sigma Phi have been volunteering at Molly's House ever since the House opened 15 years ago. Indeed, the House's namesake, Molly Sharkey, and her siblings were all members of Sigma Phi throughout the years. Sigma Phi members regularly volunteer at special events, including receptions, House tours, holiday decorating, holiday parade float design and construction and teddy bear give-a-ways. Wherever they work, you'll find a friendly face, a smile, infectious enthusiasm and unwavering support.

This incredible group of students has an outstanding track record of helping the community. Additionally, the youth have been part of helping many non-profit organizations since its inception in 1987. Those organizations include: The Elliott Museum; The American Heart Association; Treasure Coast Children's Museum; Boxes of Hope; Operation Christmas Child; Hibiscus House; Parkway Health & Rehabilitation Center; House of Hope; Sewall's Point River Kidz; Caritas Christi Sponsored by St. Joseph Catholic Church and School; Alex's Lemonade Stand - National Foundation; Beach Clean-up; International Night Life; Art is Everywhere Tours; Volunteer in Medicine Gala; Strides Against Breast Cancer; Taste of Martin County; Juvenile Diabetes; FADC.

Sigma Phi is also a philanthropic organization and donates monetarily to various causes. They support the troops overseas by providing calling cards and other essentials, as well as providing grocery gift certificates to needy families during the holiday season. Sigma Phi also contributed to hurricane relief efforts by adopting a Title One School (the majority of students receive free or reduced lunch) and providing the families with certificates for groceries and appliances to begin to rebuild their lives.
