Diamonds By Terry, Inc.

Nominated by Details Professional Concierge

Artist, bench jeweler, entrepreneur and philanthropist all words that define this charming lady who is the artist and driving force behind Diamonds By Terry, Inc. and Diamond Tea Room. June 2011 marked their 40th year in business, 17 in Stuart. Terry and Frederick Reiger are very community conscious citizens. The business is a vehicle they use to display their caring for others. Terry is as unique and sparkling as her designs and this passion radiates with her every word and creation. By focusing on craft and clients Terry Reiger has evolved into a Master Jeweler that's a cut above the rest who gives back in her designs.

They support over 20 local charities in time, donations, in-kind donations of her one-of-a-kind jewelry creations designed for specific charity events. If there is a worthy cause that needs to be addressed in the community, you will find them both involved to rally the cause through their financial support and encouragement of others to join a cause, and make a difference.

Their favorite charities include: Martin Memorial Hospital Foundation, Molly's House, (Terry serves on the Board), Alzheimer's Foundation and Community Care and Spiritwood Foundation, a non-profit that fights Alzheimer's through the arts. Over the years the Rieger's have contributed to well over 50 charities. The walls of the jewelry design studio are lined with letters of appreciation from many local non-profit organizations.

Some year's back the Rieger's added a Tea Room in the studio which serves as a destination for fund raising luncheons. Terry donates her time and her Tea Room to benefit local charity groups. The years of time and dedication to a craft have been shared with others and have served as the Reiger's opportunity to give back to others in a very special way.
